

Principles and Values of UK Research on Ethnicity and Health

Tuesday 30th March 2010

Leeds Institute of Health Sciences
101 Clarendon Road, Leeds LS2 9LJ

The workshop aims to develop an overview of the key principles and values driving UK research on ethnicity and health. The overview is intended to contribute to a presentation on this topic for the 3rd Conference of Migrant and Ethnic Minority Health in Europe, in Pécs, Hungary on 27-29 May 2010.

9.30 Arrival and Registration

10.00 Ghazala Mir and Michael Swaffield:

Welcome and Introduction

10.05 Mark Johnson The European Research Context

10.15 HOW IMPORTANT IS ETHNICITY?

Raj Bhopal Data Collection/Comparability across the EU

Saffron Karlsen Ethnicity and Other Determinants of Health

Aziz Sheikh Religious Identity and Ethnicity

10.45 Discussion and feedback

11.15 WHAT KIND OF METHODOLOGY IS NEEDED?

Sarah Salway Enhancing the Quality and Quantity of Ethnicity Research

Ghazala Mir Participatory Research, 'Bridging' and Health

George Ellison Quantitative Approaches

12.00 Discussion and feedback

12.45 LUNCH

1.45 INFLUENCING POLICY AND PRACTICE

Joe Kai Workforce Development

Jan Cambridge Principles of Cross-Cultural Communication

Mark Exworthy Influencing Policy

2.15 Discussion and feedback

3.00 OPEN SESSION/PANEL.

Follow up information

3.30 Thanks and close